CELEBRATE THIS MOMENT

Congratulations on completing your first week! That might not sound like a big deal, but it is. Take a moment to celebrate and recognize the steps you've taken to come this far. (Go ahead, we'll wait.)

Now, let's continue building that momentum! One easy way is to post in Yellowdig to earn valuable participation points. On a serious note, you will be Unofficially Withdrawn from a course if you do not post in Yellowdig during the first 2 weeks. Nobody wants that, so let's take care of it right away.

Next, find someone to help keep you accountable, like a study buddy or study group. It's easier to keep going as you show up for each other and cheer each other on.
